

Rubicon Workflow Solutions (RWS) is one of the most respected Apple value added resellers in the South. Our well-established links with recognised industry leaders, suppliers and manufacturers allow us to draw on an extensive portfolio of products and services that offer superior functionality, performance and after-sales support.

TRAINING

The desktop computer revolution has reshaped businesses, giving individuals and organisations the ability to create and publish in a vast array of media. We can deliver the training needed to exploit this power to its full potential.

TAILORED TRAINING

Our tailored courses are arranged on a one company to one trainer basis; designed to inspire individuals, our courses enable you to explore a particular software package in relation to your own working projects and at your own pace. We do this by designing the course around your needs, giving you the skills and confidence to tackle your day-to-day work issues.

As part of our service we will analyse your training needs on an individual basis before the training day arrives and will also offer support and advice upon completion of your course.

Tailored training can either take place in a fully equipped training centre in London or on your own premises.

GROUP TRAINING

Our group courses continue to maintain the same level of high standards and attention to detail as applied to our tailored training. To ensure this takes place, we ensure all our trainers have excellent software knowledge and industry experience.

Taking place at the training centre in St James's Park, all courses take place from 9.30am - 4.30pm. Lunch and refreshments are provided as are certificates and six months telephone support. Please contact us for dates and availability.

The training is authorised by:

Apple - Adobe
 Extensis
